PROFILE

I am a recent graduate from an intense, rigorous coding bootcamp. Becoming a self sufficient developer resourceful when approaching the unknown. The challenge of an ever evolving industry complements my curious, adventurous and ambitious nature. During a career in restaurant management and event planning, my strengths include customer service, team work, time management, and poise under pressure. Event planning assisted in developing a deadline-driven ethic focusing on attention to detail and multitasking to accommodate and anticipate the needs of the customer. I am eager to bring a fresh aspect and become an asset to an ambitious team.
